CITY NEWS.

Joe Dick a Chinaman was made an American citizen yesterday. Cholera infantum and summer complaints generally are on the increase.

The Mayor Sunday school picnic is out of the question for this year. Koerner Lodge K. O. P., elected the following officers last evening: Theo. Weener, O. C.; C. O. Koerner, V. C.; Chas. Neuser, P.

A fire in the second story of Kahn's grocery, at Second and Howard streets, called out the fire department about 8 o'clock last night. The loss will amount to about $1500 and is mostly on furniture.

George H. Quay's horse ran away with him in front of the chamber of commerce last evening, throwing the driver out and seriously injuring him. He lies at the Benz house. Dr. Russell fears internal trouble.

A party of gentlemen residing in the northern part of the city are building a club house on Lake Maxinkuckee, and expect to open it in a few days. A. C. Shortridge has gone to superintend the erection of the temple.

Beginning the first of July a coach will run daily from this city to Nora, six miles north of the Ripple, leaving the post office at 7 o'clock in the afternoon. It will return to the city by way of the Ripple early in the forenoon.

David Berman was arrested last night on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill. He hit John Morgan on the head with a brick in the afternoon. It will return to the city by way of the Ripple early in the forenoon.

William Bashier, the Jennings county election conspirator, with whom the jury found that Wilkinson had conspired to defraud the ballot box, has been arrested in Leavertown, Kansas, and will be brought to Indianapolis for trial.

A number of books in the public library have been defaced by pencil marks, some of them in a manner that should shame a savage. The books are a single mark in a book in the British museum.

Republican councilmen do not appear to dwell together in this blissful state of unity recommended by the good book, The Unity of the Frithers. Downey took stilling to the horizon, and now it is reported that Tucker and Yoke are at odds, and that the services of mutual friends were necessary to prevent an explosion in court.

Ought to Be Made to Pay for It. To the Editor of The Indianapolis News: It is announced that the committee of the council have unanimously agreed to grant the charter of the agricultural department, a matter of course the only benefit to be derived by the public is, that the streets are to be torn up and irreparably damaged by the laying of pipes.

It is not high time that this abuse of granting charters to any kind of humbug should cease without further ceremony? Is not this city already badly sold to the gas company, water works company and street railway company? Are more monopolies to be bestowed upon the citizens?

Please tell the anxious public, Mr. Editor what appreciable benefit is derived from what is called "water works." What consideration has been paid by the beneficiaries to the city or people?

The gas company holds its iron grasp upon our throats, and if we dare bat an eye we are threatened with darkness. It is the great privilege of the corporation to tear up all streets whenever and wherever they please, and leave them in most wretched condition; but bad as the gas company is, it is a desirable one, when compared with the water works. Has that indefatigable nuisance a redeeming quality, or has it, or will it ever comply with any of the provisions of its charter? Instead of wholesome water it furnishes nastiness, pestilential, filthy, nasty stuff at high prices, which is dignified by calling it pure water. As fire protection, it has proved in every emergency a disastrous failure. But when they tear up streets for the laying of pipes, the eminent faculty of leaving a street in a most wretched condition fearful to behold, the cause of innumerable broken springs and vehicles, and boundless profanity.

There is not a man who doubts for a moment when the ring of swindlers of the original water works company came before the council for a charter, that in consideration of its grant the city could have had such a better charter for the same purpose, free of public purposes, free of charge, if the company would have jumped at the chance of imposing a monopoly upon us upon any condition. But to-day we are bound hand and foot in the clutch of a parcel of foreign corporators, without prospect of release and the indefinite privilege of robbing the treasury.

The names of councilmen and aldermen who lend themselves to charter the new monopoly of a Steam Heating Co., will be closely scrutinized and treasured up for a day or two which is sure to come, and not far distant.

The Castleton Camp Meeting—An Explanation. To the Editor of The Indianapolis News: Your notice yesterday of the Castleton camp meeting imbroglio may be substantially true, but it is calculated to do injustice to some parties by not publishing some explanatory facts. The meeting was proposed to the trustees that they assume the responsibility and labor of the camp meeting, and receive the profits for the benefit of their church, but they refused to do it. Being a party to the meeting, they were not entitled to the profits, which were not shared by the church, but by the trustees.

Not more than one or two families tented on the ground, and the whole site was very full, and it would be an infringement for which the courts should punish the offender. The preacher is clearly right in claiming the exclusive benefit of his profitable invention, at least so far as Castleton is concerned, though I see no good reason why any preacher living on a railroad may not organize a similar camp meeting, and make a good thing out of the Sunday traffic. For those occupied, the way is contained in the whole site, and there may be a conflict. There is big money in it, however, whoever runs it. FAIR PLAY.

Lutheran Anniversary. To the Editor of The Indianapolis News: In regard to the anniversary of the Lutherans in St. Louis, I desire to say that the anniversary was the 350th of the Augsburg confession, which was read before the Synod, and the anniversary also of the Book of Concord i. e., the 300th of the first completely printed and published Book of Concord on the 25th day of May, 1580. This book contains all the confessions of the Lutheran church.

The celebration of this anniversary was held Friday, the 25th. The Lutherans in St. Louis held a union service in Trinity church, and on Sunday, and other churches, as the News said, on Monday. This anniversary was celebrated in all the Lutheran congregations of the large synod of Missouri, Ohio and other states. Let us add that in this city of June 23rd, 1880, the congregations of our city also celebrated this day, and had union services in their respective churches. XX.

STATE NEWS.

Mrs. Robert Lindsay, of Oatesburg, took her life Sunday night, and died from the effects Sunday.

From the counties of Tippecanoe, Clinton, Warren, Benton and Carroll reports are received showing that the yield of wheat is a heavy one. It is believed that the unprecedented yield of last year, but there is a larger acreage, and this will make the total yield aggregate nearly as much as that of 1879. The average per acre will be from 20 to 23 per cent. less.

Lucky for Him. (Detroit Free Press.) Some weeks since, while a party of Detroit surveyors were running a railroad line down in Indiana the survey party carried them across a cemetery. In the corner they discovered a small stake was driven into a grave, and before it was removed and carried ahead, a lathy, long-legged Hoosier overhauled the pile, peered off his cap, and danced around as he yelled out: "Si you are the man who dared drive that stake in that grave!"

"We are going to remove it," quietly replied one of the party.

"I don't care if you are; show me the man!"

"Well, I'm the man, and what are you going to do about it?" said the big man of the lot as he stepped out.

"I didn't see that was any wife's grave?" asked the Hoosier with a considerable fall of his voice.

"No, sir."

"Well, it is, sir—my first wife's grave."

"What of that? Why—why, sir, if I hadn't married a second one about a month ago and kind forgot my grief, I'd take that stake at a pin you to the fence with it! It's bad for you to feel like that, my boy, for that, I don't feel as bad as you do."

No Wine from France. Dr. McArthur, chemist, who is preparing a report on the viticulture of Europe and America for the agricultural department, is in receipt of information that pure wine can not be imported from France this year, owing to the ravages of the phylloxera. The total yield is 1,000,000,000 gallons. This year it will not be over 100,000,000 gallons. The United States consumes 600,000,000 gallons herself each year. On the other hand the vines in the United States are in a flourishing condition, and California will be able to export this year wine and brandy to Europe.

The state house contractors will soon receive their force of brick layers to twenty-five.

U. S. District Attorney Holstein has been confined to the house for several days by sickness.

The office of Coroner Wisard has been removed to Abbott's building, a few doors north of the old location.

The disincorporation of Judges Niblack and Scott on the constitutional amendments will be filed in a few days.

The state board of agriculture received a beautiful diploma this morning for its display at the Paris exposition.

The movement of east bound freight has been unprecedentedly large over the Bee Line road for the past few days.

The union picnic of the Christian Sunday schools which was to have taken place today has been postponed till next Wednesday.

A base ball nine, composed in part of the old Quickstep, will go to Madison on the 5th of July to play a game with the club here.

Hon. A. G. Porter is expected to arrive at Indianapolis about July 15, and will receive a welcome from the republican clubs all over the state.

It is the impression among the state house commissioners that they will be able to lay the corner stone of the building for the state jail.

John A. Finch, Dan Byfield and J. L. Mitchell will go over to Cincinnati to-morrow night and assist U. S. Gooding and O. G. Offutt in ratifying Hancock and English.

The loss of the counterfeit coin, upon which the indictment against Hezekiah Sanders was based, proved fatal to the prosecution, as intimated in The News. He was acquitted.

David Berman, who assaulted John Martin with a beer glass last night, was held under $2,000 bail to day to await the result of the hearing, which were reported to be quite serious.

The Indianapolis boating and fishing club will open its boat house at Maxinkuckee with appropriate ceremonies July 6. A special train will leave for the lake July 5, and return in the evening.

The Sunday school of the Holy Innocents will picnic at the Castleton camp-meeting grounds next Friday. The train will leave the East street crossing on the Peru road early in the morning.

John Thompson and Robert Emmett, of the Vandavia line, left for Chicago this morning, to attend a meeting of the directors of the Western railway benefit association, which will be held in that city this evening.

The order of Ohsen Friends instituted a new council this evening in charter number 100, at Mackecki's hall last night. There are now five councils of this order in the city with a membership of as many hundred.

N. K. Elliott, superintendent of the Vandavia line, was in the city this morning, and denied the statement made by one of the morning papers, that two more persons had died from injuries received in the recent accident on his line.

The will of Harlin Carter was admitted to probate yesterday. It gives a life tenancy in all his property to the widow, but she elects to take five simple of her share under the law. Ross Taylor was appointed administrator, bond, $14,000.

Fred. Donnell, white, of Greenfield, who had been spending the morning in company with Dora Brown, a black damsel, accused her of stealing his watch last night. She was arrested by Capt. in Splan, but no trace found of the missing property.

There is a cheerful "boom" in the movement of east bound freight. The Bee line yards at Brightwood, the largest and best arranged in the west, are so blocked with cars that the yard-master to-day complained he had no room to handle business.

In the divorce case of Tone Koerner vs. Conrad Koerner, a decree having been granted some time ago, Judge Holman to-day gave plaintiff judgment for $100 alimony, $200 attorney fees and half the property, and gave the children to the defendant.

Articles of association of the Ridgeway bank, of Randolph county, were filed with the annual purchase of books amounting to $1,500 to $2,000, the latter being the annual appropriation for this purpose. The library now is quite an institution.

One of the trustees of the Action camp meeting association says that it is not true that both churches had made arrangements to open a meeting on the ground after the regular meeting closes, as stated yesterday. The tents and other equipments are persons and property, and the church, if nothing else, no such arrangement could be made.

The alighting which recently escaped from the water-works returned yesterday. His "spree" cost the company five dollars, but he gained much experience and saw all the world that lies between the paper mill and the starch works.

The culture gained by his tour is not however visible in his countenance, he looks like the same unsmooth reptile that crawled away several days ago.

A meeting of business men interested in celebrating the fourth of July is in session this afternoon. Sufficient money is already realized to make the affair a grand success. It is intended to have a parade of the fire department, a display of water works, possibly a brass band concert and a bicycle tour, to close with the grandest display of fire ever seen in this city.

John Schwan, a colored man at the state house, had his foot mashed this morning. He was changing the position of a large stone with a block and tackle when the rope broke and his foot caught beneath the falling stone. Schwan was taken to West Maryland street, and is a recent arrival from Louisville. The wound is very painful, but will not necessitate an amputation.

Bee Culture in Indiana. The bureau of statistics is getting some interesting information from the various counties of the state, a part of which is in regard to bee culture. So far thirty four counties have reported, and in these the average number of stands is 1,500. Last year was a very poor one for honey, and might not be regarded as a good one on which to base an estimate, but according to it the average amount of honey to each colony of bees was but two pounds.

The returns show that there is only a certain amount of honey to be found in each locality and that both the amount and quality of the number of bees is large or small. In those counties where there are many stands the production is small, but where the stands are few the production is reversed. For instance, in Lawrence county there are 7,108 colonies and the annual production is but 2,928 pounds, while in Martin county the production is 2,768 pounds from 420 colonies.

From this it is evident that bee culture in Indiana is capable of cultivation only to a limited extent, and when the number of colonies is increased above a certain number, the average production decreases accordingly.

A Courtship Carousal. Yesterday evening Kate Hogarty, Alice Cole and Alice Haring, three of the most notorious courtship in the city, held a courtship and phanton at Baum's livery stable and started out. They whipped the horse until it was going at a high rate of speed, and was perhaps beyond their control. In trying to make a short turn at Michigan and Tennessee streets, the horse stumbled and broke his neck, the buggy was turned over and completely demolished, and the occupants were thrown upon the ground. The youngest woman was slightly bruised by the fall, and was given an overdose chloroform by some person residing in the vicinity of the accident.

The effects of these two combined, and when the police appeared upon the scene she claimed to be very badly hurt. This morning she is sitting up, and is apparently enjoying good health. The other women were arrested.

Ornith Witnesses. John A. Linville, an attorney of Lagrange and John Schwartz are on trial in the United States court charged with perjury, and some other offenses. The witnesses for the prosecution are Ornith, a division of the Menominee, who originally came from Pennsylvania, the most numerous body of witnesses. They bang their hair, and wear coats which are a sort of compromise between a frock and sack, and fastened with hooks and eyes, the use of buttons being discarded. They abstain from oaths, and this is their first appearance in a court of justice of any kind, save on the occasion of the preliminary examination of the defendants. They are objects of great curiosity to all the visitors in the court room.

A Bad Accident. A man named Perry Nolan, in the employ of the street railway company, while driving a mule team attached to a windless lever plow, yesterday afternoon, breaking ground for the new line on South street, met with a very serious accident. It seems he was walking behind the lever when he got strait upon it caused it to break, and a silver of the timber flying back struck him in the abdomen, causing him serious wounds. He was not seriously injured, however.

THE CRISIS. Over 75,000 Population Given to Indianapolis by the Enumeration.

Table with 3 columns: Wards, Estimated population, Enumeration. Lists wards from First to Twenty-five with corresponding population figures.

Mr. Ridenour explains that the estimate was based upon the vote for secretary of state in 1878, but not together collected in the court house, to amend their lists by making such additions, changes, etc., as were reported to them.

With the addition of the township Marion county will report a population of about 105,000 or 110,000. For Indianapolis, the exhibit is a satisfactory one, indicating a growth in the past decade of considerably over 50 per cent.

The Thorpe Block. A suit to test the question of ownership of the Thorpe block on East Market street was begun yesterday, by Mrs. Charles W. Brouse against the Equitable Trust company.

The Harmonic Concert. The Harmonic concert at the Second Presbyterian church, last night, was not very largely attended, probably on account of the threatening weather.

The Death Rate. The death rate of Indianapolis has been very high for a city making any pretensions to healthfulness, and based upon an estimated population of 108,000. The census will cut this down twenty-five per cent, and by so much increase the death rate.

The Indiana Dental Society. The Indiana Dental Society began its twenty-first annual session to-day in the rooms of the dental college, Thorpe block.
